

Home Routes

presents

My Sweet Patootie

March 12, 2010 @ 7:30 PM
at

The Barn that Harms Built

(Grace's Place) Altona, 362 Rlwy. St. S.

Admission Fee $15.00 each: (all the money goes to the artist)

Coffee & Tea provided. BYOB and a snack if you're so inclined.

My Sweet Patootie is more fun than drinking martinis at a tractor pull! They are the "li'l big band" that's busy ripping up the pea-patch with their very own strain of hayseed jazz. Armed with fiddle, finger-style guitar and two voices, My Sweet Patootie is an old-fashioned shotgun wedding of cool up-town swing and rural Ontario grit. Mark S. Tucker of the Folk & Acoustic Music Exchange (FAME) describes them as "a world of string wizardry".

Based in Mount Forest, Ontario, Terry Young (guitar & vocals) and Sandra Swannell (fiddle & vocals) met as soloists touring and recording with Canadian Folk Music Award winning veteran roots-group Tanglefoot.

Terry and Sandra changed into their zoot suit and party dress to re-emerge as My Sweet Patootie. They had one goal, to produce fun music with deadly playing. While their new sound is a complete departure from Tanglefoot, Terry and Sandra deliver a stage show packed with the same amount of energy, charm, wit and humour.

Terry is a skilled multi-instrumentalist (mandolin and banjo) and holds a bachelor of music degree in voice from the University of Western Ontario.

When Sandra Swannell recorded with the legendary Stompin' Tom Connors in 2005, she was in the middle of writing a suite of musical sketches for string orchestra. After years of juggling the folk world with classical (principal violist of the Georgian Bay Symphony), she finally grabbed her fiddle and jumped the fence into the roots music world for good. <http://www.mysweetpatootie.com/>.

Winter blessings:
Dave and Grace Harms

'heads up' —April 17 – Kim Beggs - <http://www.kimbeggs.com/home.html>. I will send more inf.

For reservation and more info contact: Grace Harms 324-8265
email: amazinggrace@harmsonline.com